DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

- Species I of Figure 1
- Species II of Figure 3
- Species III of Figure 4

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Art Unit: 2854

2. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

- Species I: claims 1-11 and 15-32
- Species II: claims 1, 4-14, 17-24, and 26-32
- Species III: claims 1, 4-8, 11, 17-24, and 26-32

The following claim(s) are generic: 1, 4-8, 11, 17-24, and 26-32.

3. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The three species each use a distinctly different arrangement of pressing and mounting means to move the clamping body or bodies as recited. In particular, in Species I, a plurality of clamping bodies 10 are seated on an axial shaft 11 which is positioned on a movable mounting piece 12 that can be moved relative to the cylinder by the spring elements 13 acting on the mounting piece and thereby biasing the shaft and clamping bodies to create a clamping force. Species II requires the pressing means is configured as at least one elastic cylindrical bearing body 14 that is arranged in the channel (i.e., the mounting means) for generating the clamping force of the clamping body 10. Species III requires a clamping body formed of a composite body with a rigid core 10i and elastic coating 10a around the core, wherein the outer elastic coating in this embodiment forms the pressing means and the channel surface forms the mounting means. Therefore, these species lack a corresponding special technical feature and do not relate to a single general inventive concept.

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
